MISSION 1: BRAZEN ASSAULT

The Traitors, commanded by the Night Haunter, launch a sudden and terrible assault against critical infrastructure in the Thramas System. The Lion and his stalwart defenders must protect it.

Setting Up The Game

The Defenders deploys adjacent to a long table each of their choice. They cannot deploy within 21” any other table edges. The Attackers may deploy within 6” of any table edge that is not the Defender’s table edge.

Before any models are deployed any scenery should be set up, except Fortifications included as part of an army. If both players agree, the objective may be placed up to 3” from its specified position in order to sit in a more narratively meaningful or pleasing place.

While deploying, the Defender places three Spoils of War in their deployment zone. No objective may be within 6” of a table edge or 6” of another objective. After placing them, these Objective Markers scatter 2D6”. If scattering would bring them within 6” of a table edge or other objective, move them a maximum possible distance before hitting this restriction.

The Traiitors deploys first and goes first.

Victory Conditions: Spoils of War

There are three Spoils of War that the Traitors aim to destroy.

Each Spoils of War is worth (0) points, even after it's destroyed. They do count as objectives for the Purposes of the Line (X) and Vanguard (X) rule.

If the Traitors destroy a Spoils of War Marker, they gain 3 VP.

Secondary Objectives:

Slay The Warlord (2), Giant Killer (2) Last Man Standing (2), First Strike (2)

Mission Special Rules

This mission uses the Reserves, Counter Offensive, Seize the Initiative, Spoils of War, and Defend, No Matter The Cost Mission Special Rules.

Spoils of War: The Spoils of War are Vehicles. They are AV11 all around and have 6 Hull Points, and 4+ Invulnerable Save vs Ranged Attacks. Each Spoils of War marker is one of the following types. Either randomise the type of each Spoils of War marker at the start of the game, or agree with your opponent based on the battlefield layout and modelled objective style.

1. Supply Dump: A conventional explosion. When destroyed, all models within D6+6” take a S8 AP5 D2 hit with Armourbane and Pinning (1).

2. Shrine of Victory: A crushing blow to morale. When destroyed, the unit that destroys it gains Fear (1). All units within D6+6” inches must take checks as if they had been wounded by weapons with Panic (0).

3. Plasma Generator: A leak of violent gases and electrical discharge.When destroyed, all models within D6+6” takes a S6 AP4 D1 hit with Breaching (4+). Affected Vehicles also suffer an additional Glancing Hit.

4. Vox Network Relay: Failure of all electronic equipment. All Nuncio Voxes, Command Voxes and Augury Scanners on the battlefield stop working for the rest of the game. Units within D6+6” lose 1 on every mental stat for the rest of the game.

5. Hardened Biophage-Vault: Horrific materials clog the battlefield. When destroyed, everything within D6+6” becomes Dangerous Terrain.

6. Archeotech Cache: Screaming visions of primeval night. When destroyed, all units within D6+6” inches suffer Perils of the Warp, and must take checks as if they had been wounded by a weapon with Suppressive (1).

Defend, No Matter The Cost: Loyalist units within 6” of an objective gain +1 to all mental stats until the moment of destruction.

MISSION 2: THE HUMAN COST

Mortals still dwell on the planets of the Thramas Sector, vital for victory. The attacker must kill or abduct these figures, whether they be vulnerable civilian targets or critical military infrastructure.

Setting Up The Game

Divide the board into four sections, each of which is 72” wide by 12” inches tall. One section adjacent to a long board edge is Deployment Zone A and the section adjacent to the opposite long board edge is Deployment Zone B.

Before any models are deployed any scenery should be set up, except Fortifications included as part of an army. If both players agree, the objective may be placed up to 3” from its specified position in order to sit in a more narratively meaningful or pleasing place.

While deploying, the Defender places three Bystanders on the mid-line of the table equidistant to both deployment zones. The Bystanders have the Specialist rule, so may be attached to other Infantry units during deployment.

The Defender deploys first and goes first.

Victory Conditions: Capture and Control the Bystanders

In the Line Sub-Phase of each Active Player’s turn the Active Player scores Victory points equal to the Line characteristic of any Line unit with a Bystander they control attached to it.

If the Attacker kills a Bystander unit controlled by the enemy, they score 2 VP plus the Vanguard (X) of the unit that killed them (even if the unit then recovers wounds or subsequently joins them).

At the end of each of their turns, the Attacker scores 1 VP for each Bystander unit they applied a Status to.

If the Defender kills a Bystander unit controlled by the Attacker, they score 3 VP plus the Vanguard (X) of the unit that killed them (even if the unit then recovers wounds or subsequently joins them). After this, double all points scored in relation to that Bystander unit for the rest of the game (including in the Line Phase, for Stasus-ing or killing them).

Secondary Objectives

Slay The Warlord (2), Giant Killer (2), Last Man Standing (2), First Strike (2)

Mission Special Rules

This mission uses the Reserves, Counter Offensive and Bystanders Mission Special Rules.

Bystanders: These mortals are vital to victory. They are initially controlled by the Defender, represented by 40mm bases. They have no Faction, so can use the Specialist sub-type to join any unit, but embark in transports or buildings.

They have the following profile:

M6 WS1 BS1 S3 T4 W4 I2 A1 LD 8 CL 8 WL 8 INT 8 Armour Save 4+ Invulnerable Save 5+

Unit Type: Infantry (Specialist)

If they are killed in the Movement or Shooting Phase, do not remove the Bystander. They immediately regain D3 wounds. The Bystander immediately moves D6+6” (ignoring enemy models) in a direction chosen by the player that controls them.

If they are killed in the Assault Phase, after scoring any points for Vanguard the unit that kills them may take an Intelligence Check. If they pass, the attacking unit is Stunned and the Bystanders immediately come under the other player’s control and join the unit that killed them if possible. If they fail, resolve as if they were killed in the Movement or Shooting Phase.

MISSION 3: THE OPENING

The attacker spots an opening, a moment of weakness ripe for the taking. Rip and tear!

Setting Up The Game

Divide the board into four sections, each of which is 48” wide by 12” tall. One section adjacent to a short board edge is Deployment Zone A and the section adjacent to the opposite short board edge is Deployment Zone B.

Before any models are deployed any scenery should be set up, except Fortifications included as part of an army. If both players agree, the objective may be placed up to 3” from its specified position in order to sit in a more narratively meaningful or pleasing place.

While deploying the Attacker places two objective markers with a value of “1” anywhere not in either player’s deployment zone. The Defender may then move them D6+6” in a direction of their choosing.

Place a third objective, the Opening Objective, at the centre point of the edge of the Defender’s deployment zone closest to the Attacker’s deployment zone. This Opening Objective has a value of “2” and is larger than normal: units are within range of the objective if they are within 6” from the marker, not 3” as normal.

The Attacker deploys first and goes first.

Victory Conditions: Seize The Opening

In the Victory Sub-Phase of each Player’s turn as the Active Player they may score Victory Points if they control any Objective Markers.

Secondary Objectives

Slay The Warlord (2), Giant Killer (2), Last Man Standing (2), First Strike (2)

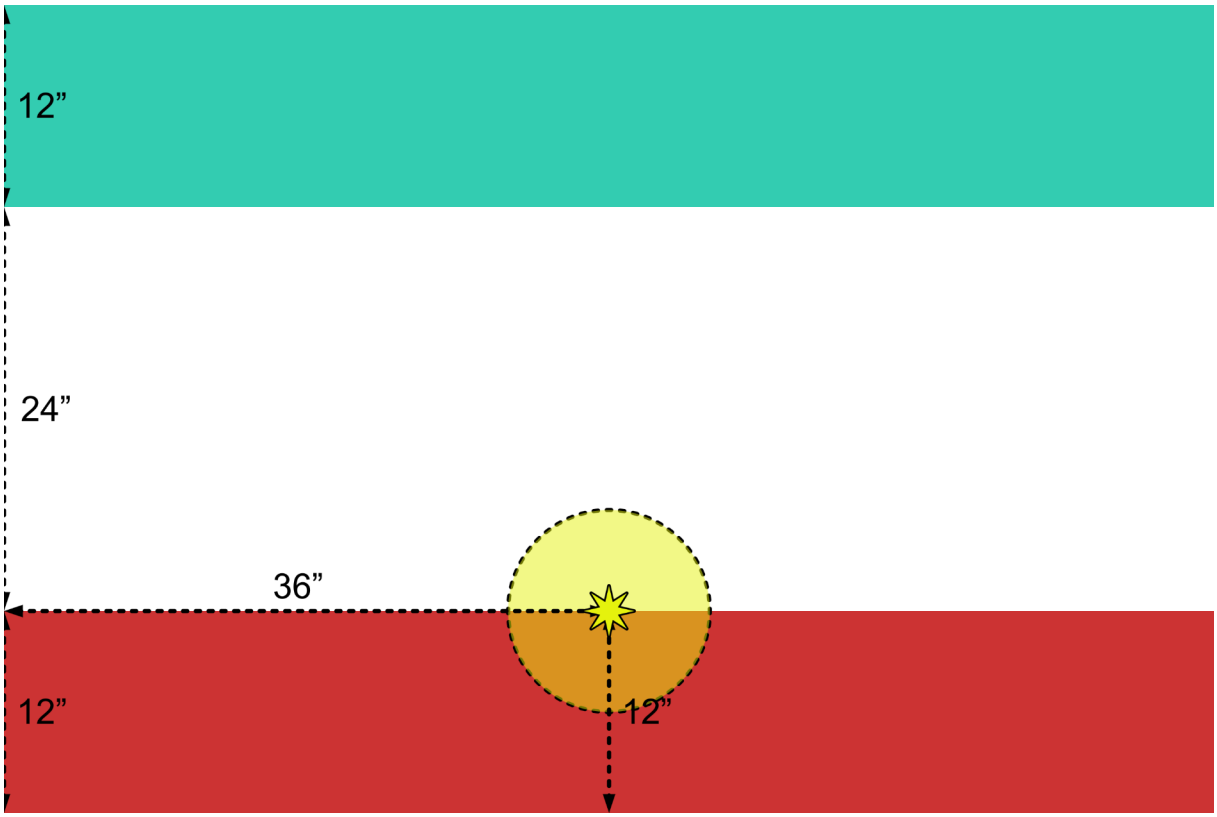
Mission Special Rules

This mission uses the Reserves, Counter Offensive and Seize the Initiative Mission Special Rules.

Limited Garrison: The Defender must place D3+1 units of their choice in Reserves.

The Opening: Vanguard points scored on the Opening Objective are doubled.

Field of Valour: If a player wins a challenge on the Opening Objective, that player scores 2 VP.



MISSION 4: WORLDS AFLAME

Damage by both the Darks Angels' forbidden techno-arcana and the Night Lords' warp trickery and ritual, plus no shortage of planet-killing weapons deployed by both sides, the Thramas system is close to collapse. Two forces battle over this sundered ground.The galaxy burns and the winner will claim only ashes.

Setting Up The Game

Divide the board into four sections, each of which is 72" wide by 12" inches tall. One section adjacent to a long board edge is Deployment Zone A and the section adjacent to the opposite long board edge is Deployment Zone B.

Before any models are deployed any scenery should be set up, except Fortifications included as part of an army. If both players agree, the objective may be placed up to 3" from its specified position in order to sit in a more narratively meaningful or pleasing place.

Place three Objective Markers with a value of "1" in the central section along the centre line of the long edge. One should be placed in the centre of the board, with two 12" in from a long board edge.

The Defeder deploys first and goes first.

Victory Conditions: Worldrupture

Primary Objectives: Capture Objective Markers

Secondary Objectives:

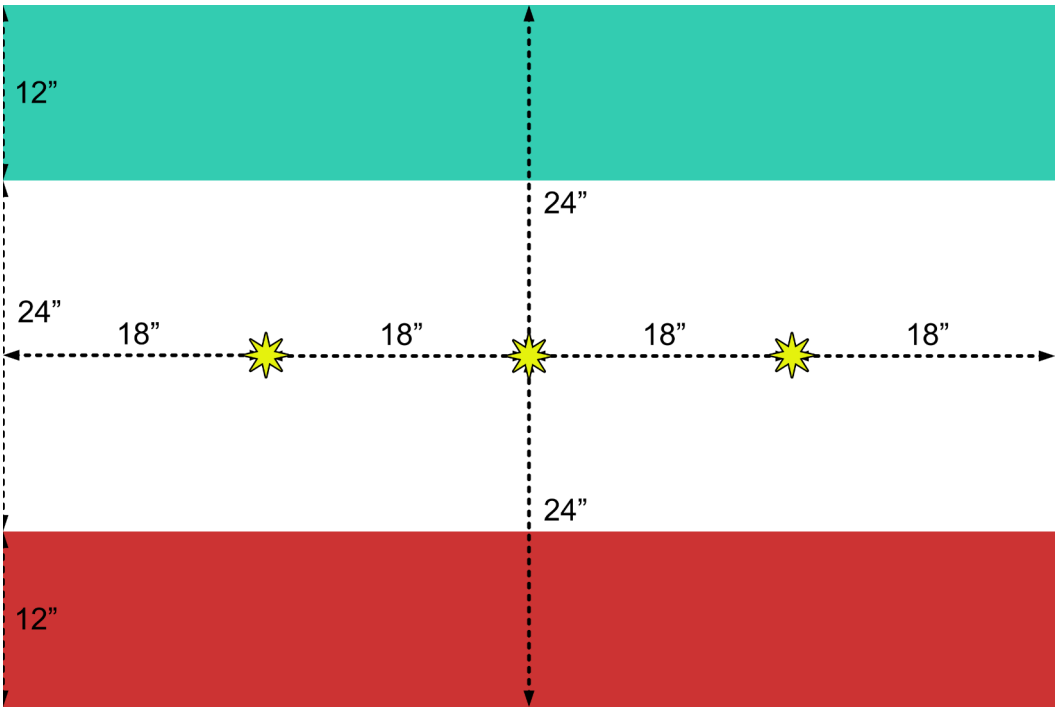
Slay The Warlord (2), Giant Killer (2), Last Man Standing (2), First Strike (2)

In the Victory Sub-Phase of each Player's turn as the Active Player they must choose one of the following for each Objective Markers they control:.

- Score the number of Victory Points on the Objective Marker.
- Score the number of Victory Points on the Objective Marker. If the unit is a Psyker, Paragon, Demon or Malefic, then they may roll a Willpower Check. If they pass or fail, the area within 3" of the objective gains the Mission Special Rule Pollute (1), or increases it Pollute (X) by 1 if it already has this rule. If they pass, they increase the Victory points on the Objective Marker by 1.
- Score the number of Victory Points on the Objective Marker. Then they may roll an Intelligence Check with -1 Intelligence. If they pass or fail, the area within 3" of the objective gains the Mission Special Rule Pollute (1), or increases its Pollute (X) by 1 if it already has this rule. If they pass, they increase the Victory points on the Objective Marker by 1.

Mission Special Rules

This mission uses the Reserves, Counter Offensive and Seize the Initiative Mission Special Rules.

Pollute (X): An objective with Pollute (X) has the following features in addition to any rules it may normally have:


- All terrain within 3X" of the objective counts as Dangerous Terrain. In addition, you fail the Dangerous Terrain Check on any result less than an X.
- It has Fear (X), where (X) is the same result as Pollute (X).
